"The South 40"
by JAMES A. SMITH
EXTENSION AGENT

We've observed Mexican bean beetles in soybeans for the first time. This pest is an important soybean insect in eastern Virginia. As soybean acreage increases, we can probably expect increasing damage from this insect. Growers will want to watch closely for this insect in the years ahead.

Last week I looked at the Midland Breeder cattle pastures on the farms of Bob McClenny and John Alvis. They are looking real good. McClenny doubled his acreage this summer. He used a manure spreader to scatter the sprigs and disced them in.

- More beef cattle producers should consider getting into Midland production. A 6 ton hay yield is common, where adequate fertilizer is applied.

A new Bull Test Station is opening at Foster Falls, Virginia (Wyo County). This is the third test station in the state.

Results of the hybrid cabbage variety trials for 1974 have been reported. The two outstanding varities when all characteristics are considered are: Market Prize and Market Victor. The latter is about 10 days earlier.

Hoe[n] gardeners should strongly consider one of the hybrids for next year's garden.

The inventory of all cattle and calves reached a record of 138.3 million on July 1, 1974, up 6% from last July. There were 10 million on feed in the 23 major cattle feeding states, down 21% from last year and the smallest number since October 1968.

There are 16 million steers and heifers weighing over 500 pounds and not in feeds lots, 21% increase over last year. There are 41 million calves weighing under 500 pounds and not in feed lots, up 10% from a year earlier.

Non-fed steer and heifer slaughter exceeded one million head the first half of the 1974 compared with about 100,000 head the first half of 1973.

This situation places the entire cattle industry in a very vulnerable position.

1.Very wide spread draught in any area or hitting any segment of the industry can cause reprecussions throughout the entire country and industry.

2.This also points out how much beef supplies can increase and the consequent decline in price when we stop expanding our herds.

3.Cattle feeders are not excited about buying and putting high priced feed into cattle that won't make choice carcasses.

Modernistic Club News

Sunday was a busy day for many in the community.

Regular preaching service was held at Mount Shiloh Baptist Church at the 11:00 o'clock morning hour. The service was well attended by members and friends.

At 1 p.m. funeral services were held for the late Mrs. Sarah J. Flowers at Mount Shiloh Church. Mrs. Flowers was one of the oldest members of the church. She passed away in Maryland where she was making her home with her children there. Mrs. Flowers was laid to rest in the Mount Shiloh Church Cemetery.

The Rev. R. Q. Lawing, pastor for a number of years, preached the funeral. A large number of relatives and friends attended the services.

The Hutcherson Funeral Home of Lynchburg was in charge of arrangements.

The funeral service was impressive.

At 3 p.m. The Rev. Lawing and his senior choir of Mt. Shiloh Baptist Church, journeyed to Lynchburg, Va., where he was in charge of services at Fifth Street Baptist Church. We learned that the service proved very successful for all who attended.

Regular service was held at First Baptist here at the 11 a.m. hour. An appreciative number turned out and heard a very good sermon, delivered by pastor Davis. All went home feeling that the morning was well spent.

The sick list include the following in Lynchburg General Hospital for this week: Messdames Maude Goff, J. C. Webb, Ms. Vernie Dews and Mr. Bennie Tyler. We pray for the sick and wish for all a quick recovery.

Horse Places Third In World Competition

Angel Supreme owned by Mr. and Mrs. George W. Lewis and son of Rice and ridden by Ivan Teator, of Wilson, N.C., manager-trainer of Jay Mar stables of Wilson, N. C., placed third in world competition in Louisville, Ky., last week. The class consisted of 23 five gaited horses from all over the world. Angel Supreme has been shown to victory in Winston-Salem, N. C., and was third in the 5 gaited world championship. She was raised from a colt to a two-year-old at Beltry View Stables in Rice and then transferred to Jay Mar Stables in Wilson where she is presently in training. Angel Supreme's full sister, Belle Supreme, won the 1973 three gaited world championship last August in Louisville.
